

HR Role in Productivity

Help employees set clear goals and career path

Provide training and development support to help staff get better in their work

Monitor progress with performance metrics and coaching

Create a work environment and culture conducive to productivity

Reward high performers to improve engagement across the organization

HR professionals are in a key position to improve productivity!

